Master's Degree Requirements (for students enrolled in 2021 or after)

- The Programme requires that students obtain a minimum of 30 credits over the duration of two-year's (or more) of study.
- 10 credits or more must be taken in Core (Basic) Courses (including 4.5 credits of 3 compulsory courses).
- 12 credits or more must be taken in Advanced Courses A.
- An obligatory 8 credits will be awarded for Thesis Research.

[Note]

- * You must consult with your supervisor(s) for the appropriate courses you are to take.
 - * For your Thesis Research to be qualified for 8 credits, it must be conducted under the supervision of your supervisor(s) throughout the duration of your study.
 - * You can count the following credits as part of Advanced Courses A: (i) any Core (Basic) Courses that you take in addition to the mandatory 10 credits for Core (Basic) Course,
(ii) courses that are not included in the Course List of this Programme but are offered at Graduate School of Economics; (iii) courses offered at other Graduate Schools of Kyoto University; or (iv) courses offered at other universities that have an international academic exchange agreement with Kyoto University or the Graduate School of Economics. In the case of (ii), (iii), and (iv), you are required to get prior recommendation and approval from your supervisor(s).
 - * Credits taken from the same course, regardless of whether it is offered by different instructors, can be counted only once, but can be taken as surplus credits. You are allowed to take up to 20 credits from the courses offered by the same instructor (including the above 8 credits for your Thesis Research). Any credits taken beyond this limit can be taken as surplus credits.
 - * Surplus credits cannot be used as part of your degree requirements.
- In addition to the credit requirements above, you are required to write a master's dissertation which must be approved by your supervisor(s) and defended in a final oral examination in order to complete a Master's degree.

*Underlined numbers indicate the changes.

Doctoral Degree Requirements (for students enrolled in 2018 or after)

- To achieve Pre-Doctoral certification (which qualifies a student to submit his/her Doctoral dissertation for defence), the Programme requires that students obtain a minimum of 24 credits over the course of three years.
- * An obligatory 16 credits will be awarded for Thesis Research, which must be conducted under the supervision of your main and sub supervisors (8 credits from each supervisor).
- * 8 credits or more must be taken in Advanced Courses A and B, 4 credits or more of which must be taken in Advanced Courses B. You can also count the following credits as part of Advanced Courses A and B: (i) those from courses that are not included in the Programme course list but are offered at the Graduate School of Economics; (ii) those from courses offered at other Graduate Schools of Kyoto University; or (iii) those from courses offered at other universities that have an international academic exchange agreement with Kyoto University or the Graduate School of Economics. In the cases of (i), (ii), and (iii), you are required to get prior recommendation and approval from your supervisor(s).
- You must submit your research plan and progress report every year. To achieve Pre-Doctoral certification, you must also submit a final report of your research achievements over the three years of your doctoral study.
- After taking Pre-Doctoral certification, you are required to indicate your intention to (or not to) continue in the programme by completing some specific documents before the middle of September. If you do not indicate your intentions, it will be assumed that you wish to continue in the programme, and you will have to pay the appropriate tuition fee.
- The degree must be completed within a maximum of six years, excluding the period of leave of absence.
- In addition to the above credit requirements and Pre-Doctoral certification, you are required to write a doctoral dissertation, which must be approved by the examining committee members (including your supervisors) and defended in a final oral examination in order to complete a Doctoral degree.

*Underlined numbers indicate the changes.

Course Registrations

Students are required to register courses following procedures. Further details of the procedures will be posted on KULASIS. After registration, the confirmation of registration period will be given to students. Without registration, any credit will be granted.

	[Autumn/Winter Semester]	[Spring/Summer Semester]
Notice on the Board	Late September	Beginning of April
Registration Forms Available	Beginning of October	Middle of April
Registration Period	Middle of October	Late April
Period for Confirmation	Late October	Middle of May

Registration Completed!

Procedures for Master's Thesis: course registration is not needed.

Students are required to register the title of their thesis by the beginning of May, and submit their thesis by the due date in the beginning of July. As a rule, Master's thesis must be written in either English or in Japanese. In case its written in Japanese, an English summary must be attached. For further details, please contact Student Affairs Office. Rough schedule of procedures is as follows.

Notice on the Board	Beginning of April
Registration of Thesis Title	Beginning of May
Submission of Thesis and Required Forms	Beginning of July
Period for Final Oral Presentation	Middle to Late July
Master's Degree Approval	Beginning of September

Master's degree issued!

Other Important Matters on Master's Thesis

- a) Language: While English is the preferable language, Japanese language is also acceptable.
- b) Number of Copies for Submission: 4 (1 original and 3 photocopies)
- c) Maximum number of words:
 - i. For those writing in English: as a general rule, no more than 20,000 words on A4-sized paper. There is no specific format for each page, but there must be enough space and the font size is preferably 11-12. The thesis must have a Japanese translated title, while an abstract can be left in English.
 - ii. For those writing in Japanese: as a general rule, no more than 40,000 characters on A4— sized paper. There is no specific format for each page, but there must be enough space and the font size is preferably 11-12. The thesis must have a title and an abstract in English.

Important Matters for Doctoral Programme Students

1. Regarding the Doctoral Study Accreditation

- (1) Doctoral programme students have to submit a Research Plan and a Research Result Report every year. Furthermore, to receive the Doctoral Study Accreditation, they have to be enrolled for 3 years and to submit a 3-year overall Research Result Report. With this procedure, the students will obtain Doctoral Study Accreditation (Research Guidance Approval) by their supervisor.

- (2) After receiving Doctoral Study Accreditation (Research Guidance Approval), they have to complete the following procedures to confirm their enrollment.

NOTE: For student enrolled in 2021 and before are difference as below.

<For students enrolled in 2021 or after>

After receiving Doctoral Study Accreditation, Students are impossible to continue as students.

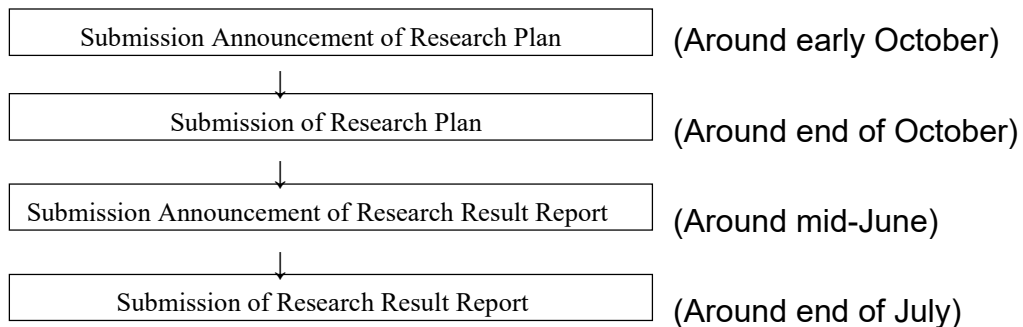

If you need to continue as students, do not do the procedure for Doctoral Study Accreditation.

<For students enrolled in before 2021>

After receiving Doctoral Study Accreditation, Students are possible to extend as student. However, students have to do the procedures of by September.

1. For those who wish to continue as students after receiving Doctoral Study Accreditation (Research Guidance Approval), they have to submit the Notification of staying in Doctoral Program (format available on KULASIS).
 2. For those who do not wish to continue as students (for reasons such as employment), they have to submit the Request for Withdrawal with Research Guidance Approval (format available on KULASIS), and fill in a Notice of Employment Information on KULASIS.
Those who fail to complete 1. or 2. mentioned above will automatically continue as students and will be required to pay the tuition fee. Please pay adequate attention to this, especially those who fall under 2. The documents required for both 1. and 2. must be submitted by mid-September.
- (3) Doctoral course students can enroll for a maximum of 6 years (excluding any period of registered absence).

◎ 【Procedural steps for 1st and 2nd year doctoral course students】

◎ 【Procedural steps for 3rd year doctoral course students (to receive the Doctoral Study Accreditation)】

◎ 【Procedural steps for those who will continue as students after receiving the Doctoral Study Accreditation】

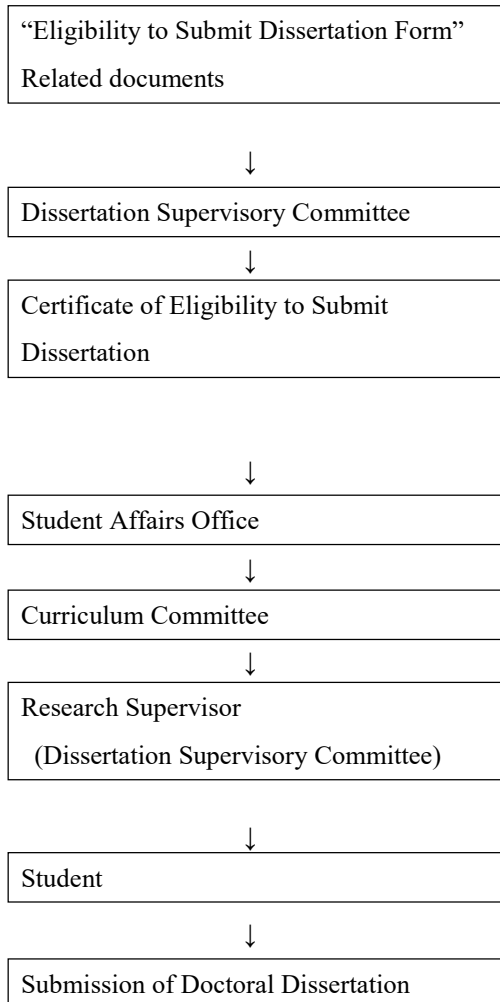

2. Regarding the Completion of the Doctoral Course Program

The receipt of the Doctoral Study Accreditation (Research Guidance Approval) does not define that they have completed the doctoral programme. The doctoral programme is completed only after receiving the Doctoral Degree. To submit a doctoral dissertation, students need to receive a Certificate of Eligibility to Submit Dissertation besides the Doctoral Study Accreditation. Please check the “Steps in Earning Dissertation” for further information on dissertation submission.

Steps in Earning a Doctoral Degree

① Research Guidance and Steps for the Submission of Doctoral Dissertation

- 1) At the time of their entrance to the doctoral programme, students will be assigned a Dissertation Supervisory Committee composed of two faculty members (one of them is the student's Research Supervisor), which is decided at the Graduate School Council Meeting.
- 2) Students can receive supervision from the Dissertation Supervisory Committee regarding their research whenever necessary.
- 3) Students need to accomplish the following steps in order to be qualified for the submission of a doctoral dissertation (which is required for the conferment of the doctoral degree).

- ① Students need to submit the “Eligibility to Submit Dissertation” form (available from the Student Affairs Office) and other related documents (follow your Research Supervisor’s instruction) to the Dissertation Supervisory Committee (Research Supervisor) either in August of the second-year or February of the third-year.
- ② The Dissertation Supervisory Committee needs to submit the “Certificate of Eligibility to Submit Dissertation” to the Student Affairs Office by the prescribed deadline in September or March if they approve to certify the student.
- ③ The Curriculum Committee will deliberate about the submitted “Certificate of Eligibility to Submit Dissertation”.
- ④ The Curriculum Committee informs the outcome of their deliberation to the main Research Supervisor (Dissertation Supervisory Committee). The main Research Supervisor will then inform the student.

* Please use the EXCEL format of ‘課程博士請求論文提出資格申請書 (Eligibility to Submit Dissertation Form)’ (in Japanese) posted on the homepage of the Graduate School of Economics. English instruction is available at the Student Affairs Office.

* The certification process is carried out during the months of August and February every year for enrolled students including those who had been deemed unqualified or had failed to submit during previous certification periods.

* The “Certificate of Eligibility to Submit Dissertation” is valid within the Doctoral Degree Application Period (within 3 years of the withdrawal after receiving the Doctoral Study Accreditation). In case the student wishes to make changes to the dissertation title or in their Research Supervisor, the student needs to submit a “Notice of Change” (free format) to the Curriculum Committee via the Dissertation Supervisory Committee and obtain approval.

* For those who have withdrawn as students after receiving the Doctoral Study Accreditation without accomplishing the certification process mentioned above, they can submit the documents to the Dissertation Supervisory Committee at any time after consulting with their Research Supervisor who was assigned to them when they enrolled. Please receive the “Certificate of Eligibility to Submit Dissertation”, and then submit the doctoral dissertation within the Doctoral Degree Application Period (within 3 years of the withdrawal after receiving the Doctoral Study Accreditation).

② Doctoral Dissertation Requirements

- 1) The doctoral dissertation must be adequately original and must be organized systematically based on a clear and definite research theme.
- 2) For dissertations that are qualitative, the total number of characters should be more than 100,000 characters (in Japanese). For dissertations that make substantial use of numeric expressions, a total number less than 100,000 characters (in Japanese) would be acceptable. 100,000 Japanese characters would be equivalent to 40,000-60,000 English Words (400-600 Words/Page). Furthermore, the doctoral dissertation must incorporate at least 1 published academic article.
The following can also be considered as a published academic article: an academic article that had been accepted for publication or a comparable article that is still under the editing process.
- 3) The dissertation has to be written either only in English or only in Japanese. The dissertation using both English and Japanese cannot be submitted.
- 4) The dissertation must be published in printed form (as a book, or as article publications such as in academic journals) within 1 year from the day of degree conferment. This requirement does not apply for the case in which the dissertation has been published before the conferment of degree.

③ Doctoral Dissertation Submission (to the Student Affairs Office)

- 1) Please complete the application forms only after carefully reading the document “regarding the application procedures towards receiving the doctoral degree” which is available on the homepage of the Graduate School of Economics.
For any questions on this matter, please ask the Student Affairs Office.
- 2) Please submit the Doctoral Dissertation (along with the complete set of required documents) after receiving the approval of your Research Supervisor.
Please submit a 1-page abstract (A4 size) for the public defense of your doctoral dissertation.
- 3) The Student Affairs Office accepts doctoral dissertation submissions throughout the year.
- 4) Please submit 5 bound copies of the doctoral dissertation (simple bookbinding is also acceptable).

④ Examination and Degree Conferment

- 1) After the doctoral dissertation is received, 3 examiners are chosen during the Graduate School Council Meeting. Examiners from outside the university may be selected in addition to the 3 examiners.
- 2) A lead examiner is chosen among the examiners. The lead examiner coordinates the schedule and organizes the public defense of the doctoral dissertation.
- 3) The place and time of the public defense of the doctoral dissertation are announced at least 1 week before the scheduled date.
- 4) The abstract of the doctoral dissertation will be posted on the Graduate School of Economics homepage at the same time as the announcement of the public defense. Furthermore, the dissertation will be made available at the Library of the Graduate School of Economics for readers to browse from the time of announcement until the public defense of the doctoral dissertation. During this period, photocopying of the dissertation will not be allowed.
- 5) (For reference) The public defense of the doctoral dissertation may be composed of 2 parts: the first part may be the presentation of the degree applicant (30 minutes to 1 hour; 30 to 40 minutes allotted for questions and answers); and the second part may be the actual examination between the applicant and the examiners (at least 30 minutes).
The actual time allocation, the working language to be used during the presentation and discussion, and other related matters are determined and decided accordingly by the lead examiner.
- 6) In principle, the public defense is held in a seminar room. Anyone can participate in the public defense. However, the lead examiner has the authority to demand any participant to leave the room based on the participant's conduct and speech.
- 7) The examiners submit a “Degree Examination Report” to the Graduate School Council Meeting after the public defense. The Graduate School Council Meeting will deliberate the report and when it is approved, a doctoral degree will be conferred to the student.
The doctoral degree is generally conferred on 23rd of each odd-numbered month (if it falls on Saturday, Sunday, or Holiday, the following weekday will be allotted).
Doctoral degree conferment is scheduled twice a year (September and March).

Measures against Cheating in Examinations

Those who cheat when taking examinations, whether for themselves or for others, will have all examinations for courses offered at the Faculty of Economics and Institute for Liberal Arts and Sciences in the relevant semester or year, invalidated,* and will not be allowed to take any subsequent examinations during that semester. Undergraduate (specialized) courses offered by other faculties will also be handled in the same way as undergraduate courses offered by this faculty. Students who do not show any remorse or who commit particularly malicious acts of cheating, such as taking exams on behalf of others, may have the credits they earned during their time at the university revoked. Furthermore, we may decide not to recommend such students for study abroad programs or scholarships. In the case that students have already been recommended by the university for study abroad, measures may be taken to cancel that recommendation if the student has not yet departed.

*Invalid means that the grade will be treated as zero.

Precautionary Notes on Term Papers

Students who wish to take the term paper should submit a copy of the "Term Paper Cover Sheet" posted on KULASIS, fill in the designated fields, sign and attach it to the body of the term paper. The due date and place for submission will be posted separately. When writing the term paper, please refer to any of most-often used styles of academic writing and citation, such as APA, Chicago and MLA, as well as the following items.

Term papers are designed so that students can examine a large amount of materials and demonstrate their own interpretation and insights on a given subject. Therefore:

- (1) Plagiarism of another person's writing is not permitted under any circumstances.
- (2) When quoting all or part of another person's text, be sure to enclose the quotation in " " so as to clearly indicate that it is a quotation, and clearly indicate the source of the quoted text (author's name, book title, publisher's name, year of publication, number of pages, etc.; for Internet information give the website address, etc.).
- (3) You must not show your term paper to others until after it's due date.
- (4) You may discuss your term paper with others, but you must write the term paper on your own.

Any student who violates any of the above will be deemed to have committed academic misconduct. The following measures will be taken. All examinations for the semester, including year-round courses, will be invalidated,* and all subsequent examinations for the semester/year will be disallowed. Students who do not show any remorse or who commit particularly malicious acts of cheating, such as writing term papers in place of others, may have the credits they earned during their time at the university revoked. Note that if a term paper with similar wording is found, it may be considered as plagiarism, so please be careful.

In addition, if a student shows his or her term paper to someone else and it is misappropriated, even if only partially, even if the misappropriation is unauthorized, the student who misappropriated the paper as well as the student who was misappropriated will be considered to have aided and abetted the misconduct, and the same measures as above will be taken.

*Invalid means that the grade will be treated as zero.

Guidelines for the Prevention of Misconduct in Research Activities

If a graduate student engaged in study or research at the Graduate School of Economics, Kyoto University, commits any of the following instances of research misconduct, measures will be taken such as invalidating all examinations for all courses offered in the relevant semester or year, or denial of "Research Guidance Approval" for the relevant year. More severe measures may be taken depending on the circumstances.

(1) Fabrication

Fabricating data, research results, etc., and recording them, or using them in presentations or papers.

(2) Falsification

Inappropriately altering research materials, equipment, or processes, and preparing research presentations/papers, etc., based on them. Using the data/results, etc., obtained from falsification.

(3) Plagiarism

Use of another person's idea, research process, research results, part or all of a paper, or terms without the consent of the person concerned or without proper acknowledgement and citation.

(4) Cheating in examinations

Cheating for one's own or another's benefit when taking a course in which examinations or term papers are used for grading.

Classes and Examinations when a Weather Warning has been issued or Public Transport Disrupted

(1) Cancellation of classes, postponement of examinations

- ① Classes will be canceled and examinations postponed in the event of the below mentioned 1) or 2):
- 1) When a storm warning has been issued for Kyoto City or an area including Kyoto City, or when either the following (a) or (b) applies:
 - (a) When there is an across-the-board service interruption to all Kyoto City operated bus services
 - (b) When there is a partial or across-the-board service interruption to three or more of the following public transport systems;
 - West Japan Railway Company (regular lines starting and terminating at Kyoto),
 - Hankyu Railway (between Kawaramachi and Umeda),
 - Keihan Electric Railway (between Demachiyanaagi and Yodoyabashi or Nakanoshima),
 - Kintetsu Railways (between Kyoto and Saidaiji)
 - 2) When so decided by the Dean of the Faculty of Economics
- ② Classes will be canceled and examinations postponed in the event that the situation described in (1) above occurs after the start of a class or examination.

(2) Holding classes/examinations when a storm warning has been lifted or operation of public transport systems has resumed

Classes/examinations shall be held in accordance with the following rules when a storm warning has been lifted or operation of public transport systems has resumed.

- 1) When lifted/services resumed by 6:30am → Held from period 1

In EA Programme, the Academic Calender is from October to September; Autumn Semester starts in October and Spring Semester starts in April. In most of other Graduate Schools (including the General Programme of the Graduate School of Economics), the Academic Calender is from April to March; the first semester starts in April and the second semester starts in October.

Please note the difference for course registration of other Programme and Graduate Schools.

*1 Advanced seminars offered by the Graduate School of Economics

*2 Introductory courses offered by the Graduate School of Economics

*3 Courses offered in English by the Graduate School of Management

*4 Courses that are not to be registered during the Course Registration Period. (Contact the instructor for detailed information)

*5 "Field Research in Japan A/B", offered as a 1-credit subject in 2019, became "On-site Research Training A/B", a 2-credit subject from 2020.

*6 Former title "Development Economics 1"

*7 Former title "Development Economics 2"

*8 Former title "Contemporary Chinese Economy Studies"

*9 Former title "Multiple Research Perspectives on Management"

*10 Former title "Governance, Risk Management & Compliance"

*11 "Accounting" is an intensive course tentatively scheduled to be held in September, though it might be categorized as Autumn Semester course.

Please contact Student Affairs Office, GSE for details.

*12 Students must take either the spring or fall semester courses.

[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
The purpose of this course is to help students prepare for their participation in a summer/winter school, or a similar program, in which they receive professional training for a research project. It provides an opportunity for students to exchange their ideas and plans for their projects, and develop and improve their research plans. By discussing various research methodologies, analytical frameworks for their projects, and various problems and concerns that students may face while conducting their research, this course will enable students to deepen their understanding of issues related to their research and to broaden their perspectives.
[Course Goals]
Students are expected to gain practical knowledge to execute their projects and analytical skills to examine research outcomes critically. They should also be able to situate their specific project in a broader context and to understand the significance of their research for their own career as well as for broader communities.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
Registration for this course is limited to PhD students who are going to participate in a summer/winter school or the like held in Japan or abroad designed for PhD students, post-doc researchers and relevant practitioners, and to receive professional training on specific research topics. Students are required to submit detailed information about the programme they wish to attend beforehand and a completion report (including a certificate of completion, if available) to the supervisors and instructors afterward.
[Class requirement]
A sufficient level of English (or other required languages) communication skill to actively participate in the training programme is required. It is possible to register the course and obtain credit up to twice; however, these separate registrations must be in different years/semesters.
[Method, Point of view, and Attainment levels of Evaluation]
This course requires ex-post registration. Course Certificate (50%) / Completion report (50%)
[Textbook]
Not used.
[Reference books, etc.]
(Reference books) None
[Regarding studies out of class (preparation and review)]
For preparation, students are required to discuss with and get feedback from their supervisor(s) and, if needed, from the instructors.
(Others (office hour, etc.))
* It is not possible to register for this course during the enrollment period. Students who wish to enroll and receive credit from this course are advised to contact the responsible instructors in order to complete the necessary (registration) procedures. Office hours are by appointment. Please e-mail to the instructors for an appointment.

Day/period	Mon 1	Class style	Lecture	Language	English
[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
Lecturer: Professor Jong-Seo CHOI (Pusan National University)
This course provides students with an introduction to financial accounting as “the language of business”. It introduces students to the basic concepts and principles of accounting with a focus on double-entry bookkeeping procedure. This understanding facilitates the interpretation and, to some extent, preparation and analysis of financial information, which is necessary for making business decisions and understanding the economic reality of business entities.
[Course Goals]
This course contributes to the development of the following learning goals:
o LO1 Our students can recognize, develop, measure, record, validate and communicate financial and other related information.
o LO2 Our students can analyze, synthesize and evaluate financial and other related information for decision making in a management context.
o LO3 Our students can communicate effectively in a business context.
o LO4 Our students understand and can apply the ethical principles relevant to accounting professionals.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
Lecture 1. Introduction to Financial Accounting Lecture 2. Financial Statements Lecture 3. Recording Transactions Lecture 4. Adjusting and Closing Entries Lecture 5. Accounting for Service Firms Lecture 6. Accounting for Merchandising Firms Lecture 7. Financial Statement Analysis Lecture 8. Cash and Financial Assets Lecture 9. Inventories Lecture 10. Receivables and Payables Lecture 11. Property, Plant, Equipment and Intangible Assets Lecture 12. Liabilities Lecture 13. Shareholders' Equity Lecture 14. Statement of Cash Flows Lecture 15. Course Summary and Feedback
[Class requirement]
Nothing in particular.
[Method, Point of view, and Attainment levels of Evaluation]
1. The general approach of this course is lecture, problem-solving, and discussion of cases relevant to the topic. Students who read the lecture materials ahead of attending class will benefit most from the class discussion.
2. Homework Assignment or Quiz Test: throughout the semester, homework exercise questions or short quiz tests will be distributed when deemed necessary. The assessment of homework will be based not on correctness but the efforts undertaken. Late homework submission will be subject to penalties.
3. Toward the end of the semester, students are expected to take a comprehensive test on an online basis, whereby a total mark of 50 % or better is required to pass the course.

[Textbook]
The course does not designate any specific primary textbook. The lecture slides are mostly self-explanatory.

[Regarding studies out of class (preparation and review)]
I strongly encourage you to discuss with me any problems that you may have with this course as soon as they arise. Please do not allow problems to accumulate because it will be more difficult to solve them later. In this course, each lecture builds on the previous lectures. It is like constructing a building; the foundation first, then the ground floor, then the first floor and so on. If you have problems in the earlier parts, you will not be able to understand the later parts. Moreover, the level of difficulty increases as we progress. Do not hesitate to email me.

[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
This course aims to provide students with the overview of economic and business history from global perspectives. It covers a broad range of topics, geographical areas, and time periods from the emergence of early and modern capitalism, the Industrial Revolution, and post-WWII economic growth to the transformation of the global economy from the 1980s. Students who specialize in economic history or business history are highly recommended to take this course, including those who have taken an economic and/or business history course at other institutions or those who have taken similar courses at Kyoto University only in Japanese, since this course will be conducted solely in English (including lecture, discussion, and assignments). The course is also highly recommended to students who do not specialize in business or economic history but want to deepen their understanding of business and the global economy.
[Course Goals]
This course aims to foster an understanding of historical changes in business and economy. Upon completion of this course, students are expected to gain ability to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> -explain the transformation of the global economy, the impacts of economic changes on various parts of the world, and the role of business in history. -identify and analyze key scholarly discussion in the fields of economic and business history.

Target Students	1st year students or above	Number of credits	1	Course offered year/period	Year-round
Day/period	As needed	Class style		Language	English
[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
The purpose of this course is to help students better understand the current economic and social situation in Northeast and Southeast Asian countries by participating in a field trip to various sites in one of the regions (e.g. China, South Korea, Taiwan, Thailand, Indonesia, and the Philippines) as well as an intensive cross-cultural and interdisciplinary programme (e.g. interactive lectures, seminar classes, and joint graduate workshop) organised with the support of our partner universities (e.g. Renmin University of China, Kyungpook National University, National Taiwan University, National Chengchi University, Thammasat University, Kasetsart University, Chiang Mai University, Chulalongkorn University, Gadjah Mada University, and University of the Philippines Los Banos). Through participation students are expected to acquire a sense of the reality "on the ground" with an international comparative perspective.
[Course Goals]
Students taking this course and participating in a field trip are expected to benefit from first-hand experience and acquire skills needed to conduct field research in various settings and to analyse the complex and dynamic processes of economic development and socio-cultural interaction in the region. It is our goal that participating students enhance their multidimensional and multidisciplinary understanding and critical sense of reality regarding economic, social and political systems.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, it is not sure yet if and how our field trip programme can be organised in 2022. For the academic year 2020, as a programme planned to be held in Indonesia was cancelled, we instead organised an international joint graduate workshop online in March 2021, joined by our partner universities in Thailand and Indonesia, so that participating students could obtain credits from this course. Likewise, the 2021 overseas field research programme was replaced with an international online seminar, in February/March 2022, including a series of lectures given by scholars from ASEAN partner universities and Kyoto University as well as guest speakers from Europe; cultural exchange activities; and one-day joint graduate student workshop. There will be a possibility to do the same if the pandemic situation would not allow any international travel. In whichever case, there will be a selection process prior to the field trip or the workshop, and therefore students cannot register for this course in advance without approval.
[Class requirement]
A sufficient level of English communication skill for conducting field research activities is required, as is a sufficient degree of progress in research in order to present at a joint graduate workshop. It is possible for doctoral students to register for the course and obtain credits twice (as maximum). However, these separate registrations must be in different years/semesters. Due to the limitations of budget and space, a certain number of students will be selected to take part in the course (i.e. a field trip programme of the year). Students who have registered (or will register) in the AGST Top Global Course (http://agst.jgp.kyoto-u.ac.jp/top-global-course/guidelines-for-gse-students) will be prioritised.
[Method, Point of view, and Attainment levels of Evaluation]
This course requires ex-post registration. Grading will be conducted on the basis of field trip participation and a presentation given at a graduate workshop, as well as the quality of the completion report submitted by the students.

Target Students	1st year students or above	Number of credits	1	Course offered year/period	2022/Spring
Day/period	As needed	Class style		Language	English
[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
The purpose of this course is to provide students with an opportunity to participate in a field trip to various sites in one of the region (mainly in the Netherlands, Germany or the UK) as well as an intensive cross-cultural and interdisciplinary programme (e.g. interactive lectures, seminar classes, and joint graduate workshop) organised with the support of our partner universities (e.g. Wageningen University, Heidelberg University, University of Glasgow). Through participation students are expected to acquire a sense of the reality on the ground with an international comparative perspective.
[Course Goals]
Students taking this course and participating in a field trip are expected to benefit from first-hand experience and acquire skills needed to conduct field research in various settings and to analyse the complex and dynamic processes of sustainable and inclusive development and socio-cultural interaction in the region. It is our goal that participating students enhance their multidimensional and multidisciplinary understanding and critical sense of reality regarding economic, social and political systems.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
For the time being, there is two possible programmes during the 2022 academic year: one in Wageningen, the Netherlands (theme: agrarian and food citizenship) in the middle of May, and the other in Prague, Czech Republic (GLOCAL “Global Markets, Local Creativities” Summer School) in late August. Due to their thematically specific nature and our budgetary limitations, however, opportunities are not necessarily given to all EA students. Also, depending on the situation of Covid-19 pandemic in Japan and Europe, there is a possibility to cancel the programmes.
[Class requirement]
A sufficient level of English communication skill for conducting field research activities is required, as is a sufficient degree of progress in research in order to present at a joint workshop. Please note that some of the collaboration with our partner universities in European countries are research area-based: Wageningen University for agri-food and rural development studies; GLOCAL Consortium Partner Universities, such as University of Glasgow, University of Barcelona and Erasmus University Rotterdam, for business and socio-economic history studies. It is possible for doctoral students to register for the course and obtain credits twice (as maximum). However, these separate registrations must be in different years/semesters.
[Method, Point of view, and Attainment levels of Evaluation]
This course requires ex-post registration. Grading will be conducted on the basis of field trip participation and a presentation given at a graduate workshop, as well as the quality of the completion report submitted by the students.

[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
The course aims to provide a critical understanding of the spatio-temporal dynamics of capitalism. We will examine economic crises by situating these within the capitalist imperatives toward the pursuit of profit and the continuous expansion of production through recapitalization and reinvestment. We will further examine the tension between two kinds of capital: one that is fluid and another that is spatially embedded. The course is conducted mainly in seminar-type presentations in the English language. Furthermore, students are required to submit a reaction paper discussing one of the supplementary readings (to be given out in class).
[Course Goals]
In this course, the students will learn about economic crises from the perspective of capital accumulation. Through their active participation, they will learn to formulate and express their ideas in a coherent and logical manner.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
First class: Course introduction Second class: On crisis (1) Third class: On crisis (2) Fourth class: On capital accumulation Fifth class: On capitalist production (1) Sixth class: On capitalist production (2) Seventh class: On the role of the market (1) Eighth class: On the role of the market (2) Ninth class: On the evolution of capitalist development (1) Tenth class: On the evolution of capitalist development (2) Eleventh class: On geography of capital accumulation (1) Twelfth class: On geography of capital accumulation (2) Thirteenth class: On the political economy of uneven regional development Fourteenth class: On what is to be done Fifteenth class: Course recap and feedback

Course title <English>	Governance and Ethics		Instructor(s) (Affiliated department, Job title, Name)	Graduate School of Management Adjunct Associate Professor, Ryoko Ueda Adjunct Professor, Takashi Hikino
Target Students	1st year students or above	Number of credits	2	Course offered year/period	2022/Spring
Day/period	Tue 4	Class style		Language	English
[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
The Governance and Ethics course aims to give an overview of a coherent analytical framework to maximize the corporate value by systematically managing compliance and social responsibilities as well as risks and uncertainties from the perspective of the senior management and employees as well as shareholders.
[Course Goals]
Students are expected to learn the basic yet organized knowledge of corporate governance and business ethics that have become one of the critical foundations of modern corporate enterprises.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
The Governance and Ethics course offers a systematized framework to preserve and maximize firm value in contemporary economies. As such it covers three major subjects: corporate governance as an integrating core; risk management as analytical tools; and compliance and corporate social responsibilities/sustainability as practical domains.
Topics that are covered in individual classes can be summarized as follows: Topics 1 & 2: Corporate governance and corporate management Topics 3 & 4: Governance and compliance with laws and regulations: Preserving firm value Topics 5 & 6: Corporate Governance as tools to enhance corporate value Topics 7 & 8: Business Risks: Risks to business and risk management Topics 9 & 10: Corporate Social Responsibility: Rise and Fall, and Rise Again? of the CSR concepts and practices Topics 11 & 12: CSR and Beyond: Shifting into socially sensitive philosophy? Topics 13 & 14: How to maximize firm value in contemporary societies?
(Note that depending on the interest of participating students and their knowledge of general governance issues the organization and subjects of classes will be modified.)
For a few topics guest lecturers will visit the class to deliver their talks, while Professors Ueda and Hikino will attend all the classes in order to divide the remaining topics and coordinate all the administrative matters. The class will be held in every afternoon on Tuesday, 4th period (15:00-16:30), during the Spring semester.
[Class requirement]
No systematic knowledge of economics, law or management is required. Active interest in market and social dynamics of businesses is a prerequisite. Please note that auditing students are required to have a brief interview with the professor before classes start. The number of auditing students will be limited.
[Method, Point of view, and Attainment levels of Evaluation]
Final examination (50% of the total grading); class attendance and active participation (25%); and short note at the end of each class (25%)
[Textbook]
No specific textbooks are used. Copies of necessary articles and documents will be distributed in the class.
[Reference books, etc.]
(Reference books) Relevant references will be provided in appropriate classes.
[Regarding studies out of class (preparation and review)]
Students are expected to read the assigned materials that will be distributed in the classroom.

Course title <English>	GSE Seminar		Instructor(s) (Affiliated department, Job title, Name)	Graduate School of Economics Professor, Shuji Hisano Professor, Go Yano
Target Students	1st year students or above	Number of credits	1	Course offered year/period	2022/Spring
Day/period	As needed	Class style		Language	English
[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
The purpose of this seminar is to encourage students to actively participate in seminars and workshops designed for PhD students, post-doc researchers as well as faculty members with the aim of exchanging ideas and enhancing academic quality through presentation and discussion on specific research topics.
[Course Goals]
Students are expected to acquire higher-level of academic presentation and discussion skills and expand academic networks.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
Throughout the academic year, there are many seminars and workshops organised according to specific research areas. Students taking this course are required to participate in more than 6 seminars/workshops (not necessarily on the same research area) and present a research paper more than once to receive feedback from other participants. Target seminars/workshops include: GSE seminar series offered in Applied Microeconomics, Applied Macroeconomics, Asian Economic Development, International Economics, Economic and Business History, Management, Accounting Research, and Institutional Economic Dynamics; PhD workshops managed by several GSE's faculty members (the list can be found in the Study Guideline, though available only in Japanese); BBL; AGST-related seminars/workshops including those coordinated at the Graduate School of Agriculture (Division of Natural Resource Economics) and the Graduate School of Letters; and other types of seminars/workshops organised by GSE's faculty members.
[Class requirement]
Students are required to use the official Application Form and Attendance Forms. For the former, students are required to consult with their supervisors beforehand and get a confirmation signature. This is important to make a feasible plan to participate in relevant seminars/workshops and present a research paper on a right occasion. For the latter, students are required to get a confirmation signature each time from an organiser/coordinator of the seminar/workshop. Also, students are required to fill in, get a signature on, and submit a Presentation Form after presenting their research paper at one of the seminars/workshops. At the completion (or at the end of academic year) students are required to submit all the Attendance Forms as well as the Presentation Form.
[Method, Point of view, and Attainment levels of Evaluation]
Grading will be conducted on the basis of the quality and appropriateness of seminars/workshops the students attended as well as the quality of the Presentation Form (i.e. presentation summary and accomplishment report) submitted by the students.
[Textbook]
Not used.
[Reference books, etc.]
(Reference books)
[Regarding studies out of class (preparation and review)]
The purpose of this course is to encourage students not only to attend a series of seminars/workshops, but to actively participate in discussion and learn effectively and productively from presentation. Therefore, students are strongly recommended to well prepare seminars/workshops (e.g. by reading relevant materials and handouts distributed beforehand, if any) and their own presentation.
(Others (office hour, etc.))
Office hours are by appointment. Please e-mail to the instructors for an appointment, if necessary (it is more significant to consult with supervisors).

Course title <English>	International Academic Presentation		Instructor(s) (Affiliated department, Job title, Name)	Graduate School of Economics Associate Professor, Steven Edward Ivings
Target Students	1st year students or above	Number of credits	1	Course offered year/period	2022/Spring
Day/period	As needed	Class style		Language	English
[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
Giving a presentation at an international workshop provides an important platform for students to develop their oral presentation skills and streamline their means of communication. It also provides them with an excellent opportunity to interact and discuss with scholars on subjects from various fields of interest. This will in turn enable students to connect their disciplinary field of studies to the new ideas they have learned, and thereby help them enhance their academic performance and research excellence. This ad-hoc course is organised with these novel aims in mind.
[Course Goals]
Students are expected to acquire valuable experience and skills in preparing and presenting content from their research project at an international and academic setting.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
Registration for this course is limited to students who are going to participate and present a paper (at least once) at an international academic conference or international graduate workshop, held in Japan or abroad. International students are allowed to count their participation and presentation at a domestic academic conference or graduate workshop held in Japan, however, in such cases participation is required on two or more occasions.
[Class requirement]
Students are required to give one or two presentations at relevant international workshops. Before and after the presentation, students are required to get advice from their own supervisor(s) and, if needed, from the instructors. Students are also required to submit their presentation and completion report to the supervisors as well as the instructors afterward. It is possible to register the course and obtain credit up to twice; however, these separate registrations must be in different years/semesters.
[Method, Point of view, and Attainment levels of Evaluation]
This course requires ex-post registration. Paper presentation, incl. preparation (50%) / Completion report (50%).
Make sure to contact the person in charge of this course before your presentation both to: 1) express your intention to register and 2) to receive feedback on presentation.

[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
Our consistent and overarching theme of this course is how to investigate and understand the power of business as a political actor, especially the role of multinational corporations vis-à-vis the role of states and civil society actors. In the years of 2019 and 2020, this course provided a comprehensive analysis of social, economic, political, cultural and environmental issues surrounding specific agricultural products along the agri-food value chains (a global flow of the food from upstream to downstream across borders). Then, in the year of 2021, we turned our attention to one of the ongoing structural processes with profound influences on agri-food systems and rural economies around the world: financialisation. Through reading a relevant textbook, we critically examined the impacts of financialisation in the food industry and in farming and forestry, as well as the impacts on rural actors and communities. In both cases, what we kept in mind in our review and discussion was power relations within and behind the process of agri-food businesses development and transformation. As a matter of necessity, our subsequent question is how powerful business actors are able to exert a direct and indirect influence on the process of international and national policy making (agenda setting) and governance of agri-food systems. In this semester, we are going to read together several books (chapters) and articles on the topic of a rising trend of multistakeholder governance for global challenges, such as food insecurity and climate change. As often dubbed and criticized as “multistakeholderism” or “corporate takeover of governance”, the main driving force behind these multistakeholder approaches to global governance is multinational corporations, business associations, and private foundations. They are powerful enough to form their own global governance platforms and coalitions involving other actors, and to construct discourses to legitimise themselves as if having governmental authority and make their own agenda and standards normalised. In order to tackle this question, we will take a perspective of political economy, political sociology, and governance studies, not business management or project management, as a theoretical and methodological foundation.
[Course Goals]
By the end of this course, having read the literature and participated in the educational activities, students should be able to acquire a deep understanding and critical insight into the process and mechanism of global governance and the role of powerful corporate actors and private foundations: how and in what way they are able to exert their influence on global governance; and if and how it is possible to challenge such a hegemonic regime and bring global governance more democratic and genuinely participatory.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
We are going to read the following book (tentatively): Week 1) Guidance Week 2-5) - Harris Gleckman (2018) Multistakeholder Governance and Democracy: A Global Challenge, Earthscan/Routledge. Week 6-9) - Brid Brennan et al. eds. Scott (2018) Lobbying and Society: A Political Sociology of Interest Groups, Polity Press. Week 15) Wrap-up and feedback
[Class requirement]
No prerequisite knowledge or skill required other than English language ability sufficient to interact actively in class.
[Method, Point of view, and Attainment levels of Evaluation]
Grading will be carried out on a basis of active class participation (70%) and assignment presentation/report (30%).

Target Students	1st year students or above	Number of credits	2	Course offered year/period	2022/Spring
Day/period	As needed	Class style	Lecture, Field Research	Language	English
[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
The internship course aims to integrate the theory and practical skills/knowledge that students gained in actual workplace, and to bring them comprehensive understandings on real economy. Details depends on each case, but the content of a participating internship program is required to fit into the general aim of the East Asia Sustainable Economic Development Studies program. Please consult the instructor in advance.
[Course Goals]
Through professional responsibilities, students are expected to develop practical skill and gain broad knowledge outside the classroom.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
Requirements: 1) The duration of an internship must be more than 10 full working days. 2) Each participant must submit a registration form which includes the outline of the internship, as well as a final report to the instructor. *Please contact the instructor for a registration form. 3) His/her internship supervisor must submit an evaluation of the student to the instructor.
[Class requirement]
A participant should be a regular student of International Graduate programme for East Asia Sustainable Development Studies.
[Method, Point of view, and Attainment levels of Evaluation]
In order to receive a passing grade and gain credits in the Internship course, students are required to fulfill the following conditions: 1) Each student must get approval from his/her supervisor(s) and the course instructors before taking part in an internship program. 2) Each student must be working as a full/part-time position. 3) The total number of on-the job hours must be at least more than 10 full working days (e.g. two-week fulltime internship, or one-month half-day internship). Grading depends on the basis of a final report submitted by the student and an evaluation report submitted by his/her internship supervisor. 4) Each student must submit to the instructors (i) the outline of the internship (registration form); (ii) a final report of his/her own; and (iii) an evaluation report written by his/her internship supervisor at the host organization, after finishing the internship.

Day/period	Thurs 3	Class style	Lecture		Language	English
[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
This course has been designed to give participants the opportunity to explore and understand the theoretical foundations and practical knowledge about how fieldwork is conducted in the social sciences. The central concern of this course is to introduce participants on how to conceptualize and carry out fieldwork by learning about appropriate identification and application of methods and techniques; the benefits, challenges and risks associated with doing fieldwork; and the knowledge and techniques on how to avoid/mitigate common problems, ways to organize, synthesize and process data, among others, for their research work (current or future).
[Course Goals]
Participants can expect to gain insights into how fieldwork is used as a basis for writing up research work. This course is mainly student-led, meaning that students will be expected to share their ideas, experiences and opinions during open discussions and small group work; as well as to design and carry out their own fieldwork projects. This course has also been designed to be project-centered, meaning that most sessions will revolve around equipping students with the knowledge and skills to complete the projects. By doing the projects, students can expect to learn how to put the principles learned in the classroom into practice and thus building confidence in using some of the most common methods and techniques used in fieldwork. In addition to project work, the course will also include lectures, discussions, in-class exercises, take-home assignments and group work. Course materials will be based on literature from the social sciences.

To maximize learning, it is expected that students attend classes, arrive on time, and come prepared to participate in the discussion. If one misses more than three classes and does not have a legitimate reason and supporting evidence (such as a doctor's note), the course credit will not be issued.

In addition to classroom learning, students are required to complete and submit the following outputs:

1. Observational Research Project (30%) - small groups (2-3 people)
2. Interview Project (50%) - individual
3. Learning & Reflection Portfolio (20%) - individual

Assignment #1 Observational Research Project

Overview: Students will work in small groups to conduct observational research. Together, they will choose a topic/issue, a site (only a public place), collect data via non-participant observation, and submit one field report.

Purpose: To engage in field research quickly and to start using key skills that are part of doing fieldwork, (i.e. planning, collecting data, writing field notes, analyzing data, etc.) and to experience common challenges and issues associated with doing field research.

Assignment #2 Interview or Survey Project

Overview: For this assignment, each student will either (A) conduct an open or semi structured interviews, or (B) a questionnaire survey to know more about an issue. Working individually, the task is to select a topic of interest, and either (A) develop an interview guide, arrange appointments, interview respondents, or (B) develop a questionnaire survey, distribute and collect the survey, analyze your findings, and submit a report.

Purpose: To practice developing an interview guide or questionnaire survey, to learn through asking questions and listening, and to gain confidence in leading field research.

Assignment #3 Learning & Reflection Portfolio

Overview: Throughout the course, students will be expected to answer questions that will be assigned by the instructor to facilitate a thorough understanding and critical reflection of key articles and books. Students' answers will make up a portfolio that will be submitted to the instructor at the end of the course.

Purpose: To help students prepare for the following class, to keep track of what they have learned and to practice frequent reflection on what is learned throughout the course.

[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
This course explores the consumer theory, the theory of firms, and the market equilibrium. We will first analyze how consumers and firms make their economic decisions, how they interact through markets, and how the market equilibrium outcome is determined under perfect competition. We will also argue welfare implications of perfect competition. Thereafter, we will compare different market structures such as perfect competition, monopoly, and oligopoly. We will finally evaluate the effectiveness of various economic policies such as taxation and subsidization.
[Course Goals]
By the end of this course the participants are expected to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Acquire theoretical and analytical tools to understand the behavior of consumers and firms. * Derive the market demand and supply, and find the market equilibrium outcome. * Assess the efficiency of economic outcomes. * Compare different market structures. * Critically argue possible economic policies.

[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
The goal of this course is to help students understand better the current economic and social situation in East Asia by participating in a field trip to various sites in the region as well as an intensive cross-cultural and interdisciplinary program (interactive lecture and seminar classes) organized with a support from our counterpart university. The students are expected to develop a sense of reality on the ground with an international comparative perspective.
[Course Goals]
Students taking this course are expected to acquire experiences and skills to conduct field research on various settings and analyse the complex and dynamic processes of economic development and socio-cultural interactions in various countries. It is our goal that participating students enhance their understanding and critical sense of reality of the economic, social and political systems from a multidimensional and multidisciplinary perspective.
[Course Schedule and Contents]
This course is designed mainly for master's students of the international programme (EA course) who join PhD students in the course of "Field Research in East Asia", "Field Research in Europe", or other international field research programmes organised by Kyoto University Asian Studies Unit (KUASU). The detail will be announced later. Students can register for this course even after the registration period. Examples of field research in the past several years: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○Thailand in September 2015 ○Germany in December 2015 ○Netherlands in March 2016 ○Thailand in September 2016 ○Germany in December 2016 ○Netherlands in June 2017 ○South Korea in February 2018 ○Thailand in February 2018 ○Taiwan in November 2018 ○Thailand in November 2019 NOTE: The 2020 overseas field research programme was supposed to be held in Indonesia, but due to the Covid-19 pandemic it was cancelled. Instead, an international joint graduate workshop was held in March 2021 online, joined by our partner universities in Thailand and Indonesia. Likewise, the 2021 overseas field research programme was replaced with an international online seminar, held from 28th February to 12th March, including a series of lectures given by scholars from ASEAN partner universities and Kyoto University as well as guest speakers from Europe; cultural exchange activities; and one-day joint graduate student workshop. At this point, it is not decided yet if and how an overseas field research programme can be planned and implemented in 2022.

[Class requirement]
Students are required to have a sufficiently high level of English language skill as well as basic knowledge of the country and region that students are going to visit. There might be a selection process based on such required language skill, motivation and suitability in terms of academic/occupational interest.
[Method, Point of view, and Attainment levels of Evaluation]
This course requires ex-post registration. Grading will be based on active participation in discussion and other activities during the orientation and the actual trip (including a presentation at an international joint workshop at our partner university) and the quality of student essay on the field trip.
[Textbook]
Related materials will be introduced during the class.
[Regarding studies out of class (preparation and review)]
Students will be required to prepare for a student workshop (i.e. presentation material), interviews (e.g. questionnaires), and field activities.

Target Students	Students (Humanities and Social Sciences)	Number of credits	0.5	Course offered year/period	2022/Spring, Autumn
Day/period	Intensive May 14, May 21, May 28, (9:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.)	Class style	Lecture	Language	English
[Outline and Purpose of the Course]
This course guides graduate students who are about to start their research what they should be prepared to do as a responsible researcher. Students will learn how to conduct research in accordance with the norms to be followed as a researcher and how to present research results appropriately. In particular, the lecture will show how misconduct in scientific research can hinder the development of sound science, and how to handle data correctly and present research results appropriately. In addition, students will learn about the appropriate use of research funds, plagiarism and conflicts of interest. In addition to the lectures, students will have group work to discuss the given issues.
[Course Goals]
To learn what it means to act responsibly as a researcher and to better understand the pressures which can cause research misconduct to occur. Through case studies of misconduct in scientific research, students will learn how to be a researcher who acts with integrity. Students will be invited to reflect on the virtues which make for a good researcher, the values which research encodes, and the potential ramifications of research misconduct. Finally, students will take an e-learning course on Research Ethics of JSPS to confirm their understanding.
