

Regional Innovation Capability and Technology Transfer in Biotechnology

Clusters:

New Recipes in Japan and Europe?

on

Thursday and Friday, 19 and 20 September 2013

at the

European Center for Japanese Studies in Alsace (CEEJA)

8 route d'Ammerschwih, 68240 Kientzheim, FRANCE

GPS coordinates: N48.13014°, E7.28947°

*Registration starts at 12:45. The event begins at 13:30 and will end the next day at 13:30.
People travelling long distances may book on-site B&B accommodation for €25/night (subject to availability).*

To boost the development of biotechnology clusters, national and local governments encourage universities, research institutes, large firms and SMEs to make connections and advance technology transfer through networking policies, which may lead to the commercialisation of biotechnology.

Current major economic research outcomes of regional innovation system show that technology transfer through such university-industry partnerships may facilitate regional capabilities for biotech innovation. However, many bioclusters face development problems in relation to technology transfer: the development of less competing technologies, slow licensing, fewer ventures and the globalisation of innovation.

Japan and France have several productive bioclusters and have adopted new policies to address the new challenges to re-boosting regional innovation. This workshop will compare Japanese and French practices, identify the current development problems and look for a new orientation integrating practical experiences and academic insights.

This workshop will take place only in English and has two half-day sessions: on the first day, businesses from the Upper Rhine Area and from Japan will present and discuss their leading biotech technology transfer applications. The second day will address current problems and future orientations with Japanese and French academics leading the discussion of developments in biotech clusters.

To register, or for more information:

<http://www.eu-japan.eu/regional-innovation-capability-and-technology-transfer-biotechnology-clusters>

The event is organised by:

Regional Innovation Capability and Technology Transfer in Biotechnology

Clusters:

New Recipes in Japan and Europe?

Agenda

Participants staying at the CEEJA may join a welcome dinner. The CEEJA will contact those participants to arrange their transfers from airports / railway stations. If you require accommodation, please state this when registering online for the event, or contact Mr Swann GASTINGER, on +33 3 89 23 16 53.

CEEJA's gps coordinates are N48.13014°, E7.28947°

THURSDAY, 19 SEPTEMBER 2013

At the CEEJA, 8 route d'Ammerschwih, 68240 Kientzheim

12:45-13:30 Registration

Business session - New technology transfer recipes in Europe and Japan

13:30-13:35 Opening remarks Mr. Naoki WAKABAYASHI, Kyoto University, Japan

13:35-13:55 Welcome speeches Mr. Charles BUTTNER, President of the Upper-Rhine County
Alsace Region
Mr. André KLEIN, President of the CEEJA

Session 1 - Technology transfer and development of regional competitiveness of bioclusters : The French recipe

14:00-14:40 New challenges of technology transfer in Alsace bioclusters Mr. Nicolas CARBONI, SATT Conectus Alsace, France

14:40-15:20 Development and future of Alsace Biovalley Ms. Agnès LEGOLL, Alsace Biovalley, France (tbc)

15:20-15:35 Coffee break

Session 2 - Technology transfer and development of regional competitiveness of bioclusters : The Japanese recipe

15:35-16:15 Current situation of university-industry collaboration and technology transfer in Japan: the role of intermediaries Ms. Yukiko NISHIMURA, University of Tokyo, Japan

16:15-16:55 New policy design of bioclusters development in Japan Mr. Shintaro SENGOKU, Kyoto University, Japan

Session 3 - Technology Alliance and Bio Venture: Chef's Ideas

17:05-17:45 Our R&D and International Alliance Mr. Pascal NEUVILLE, CEO of Domain Therapeutics

17:45-18:00 Concluding remarks Mr. Naoki WAKABAYASHI, Kyoto University, Japan

18:30-20:30 Welcome Wine and Dinner at the CEEJA

The event is organised by:

Friday, 20 September 2013

At the CEEJA, 8 route d'Ammerschwihr, 68240 Kientzheim

Nouvelle cuisine in technology transfer: regional innovation capabilities

09:00-09:05 Opening remarks Mr. Shintaro SENGOKU, Kyoto University, Japan

Session 1 – Sustainable developments in bioclusters

09:05-09:35 New challenges in the formation of a Global Cluster and Networking Ms. Hawa Issa MUNISI, Kyoto University, Japan

09:35-10:05 Agglomeration mechanism in biotech clusters: Some perspectives from the French experience Mr. Eric JOLIVET, Toulouse Graduate School of Management, France

10:05-10h35 The production of young scientists in France and in Japan with a special reference to the life sciences Mr. Hiroatsu NOHARA, LEST, Aix Marseille University, France

Session 2 - Regional capability in licensing

10:45-11:15 Gaps between patent applications and grants in joint licensing networks in a Japanese biocluster Mr. Naoki WAKABAYASHI, Kyoto University, Japan

11:15-11:45 Bioventures and licensing in Alsace Biovalley Mr. Antoine BURETH, University of Strasbourg, France

11:45-12:15 Comparative analysis of R&D alliance networks between Japan, the US and the EU Mr. Ryuichi NAKAMOTO, Sugiyama Jogakuen University, Japan
Mr. Keigo TAKAI, Kyoto University, Japan

12:15-12:45 Dynamics of change in the technoscientific knowledge structures underpinning emerging technologies? The case of iPSC technologies Mr. Alfonso AVILA-ROBINSON, Kyoto University, Japan

12:45-13:00 Concluding remarks Mr. Antoine BURETH, University of Strasbourg, France

13:00-14:00 Lunch at the CEEJA

The event is organised by:

REGISTRATION FORM
(Please, return it before September 12th)

First Name :

Surname :

Address :

.....

Phone Number :

Email :

Will attend the workshop on...

Day 1 (09/19/13) : YES / NO

Day 2 (09/20/13) : YES / NO

Will stay at the CEEJA on the night of September 19th, for the cost of 25 euros :

YES / NO (Reservation is subject to availability)

Will join the free welcome dinner at the CEEJA on the evening of September 19th :

YES / NO (Reservation is subject to availability)

Will join the €15 lunch at the CEEJA on September 20th :

YES / NO (Reservation is subject to availability)

The event is organised by:

